When playing Limbo, the user chooses a target multiplier (e.g., 2x, 50x, and even 1,000 x) and puts a bet utilizing cryptocurrency. The game then produces a random multiplier outcome. If the generated outcome is equal to or greater than the target multiplier, the gamer wins. If it falls below, the bet is lost.

Comprehending the Math: Target Multiplier vs. Win Chance

One of the most important aspects of the Limbo crypto game is the relationship between the target multiplier and the real opportunity of winning. Due to the fact that the game consists of a built-in home edge (generally around 1% to 2%), the win opportunity is a little lower than pure probability recommends.

The following table highlights how target multipliers associate with win portions and prospective payouts on a theoretical £ 10 bet (assuming a 1% home edge).

Table: Limbo Multipliers, Win Chances, and Payouts (£ 10 Bet Example)

Target Multiplier Mathematical Probability Real Win Chance (with House Edge) Payout on a £ 10 Bet Net Profit 1.05 x 95.23% 94.28% £ 10.50 £ 0.50 2.00 x 50.00% 49.50% £ 20.00 £ 10.00 5.00 x 20.00% 19.80% £ 50.00 £ 40.00 10.00 x 10.00% 9.90% £ 100.00 £ 90.00 50.00 x 2.00% 1.98% £ 500.00 £ 490.00 100.00 x 1.00% 0.99% £ 1,000.00 £ 990.00 1,000.00 x 0.10% 0.099% £ 10,000.00 £ 9,990.00

As seen in the table, lower multipliers use regular small wins, while greater multipliers offer unusual, life-altering payouts.
