An engagement session is often the first real chance for couples to work with their Portland engagement and wedding photographers wedding photographer before the big day, and Annie Paige Photography treats it as exactly that. These sessions help couples get comfortable in front of the camera ahead of the wedding, something Annie is known for making feel effortless even for people who dread being photographed. Locations around Portland and the wider Maine coast make for a natural, relaxed backdrop for engagement photos.

Annie Paige Photography | 59 State St, Portland, ME 04101 | (207) 841-4333

Many couples who wedding photographers Portland book an engagement session with Annie go on to book her for their wedding day as well, a pattern that speaks to the comfort she builds early on. Call (207) 841-4333 to schedule an engagement session in Portland.