Whether you're a brand-new gamer curious about how a "case" works or an experienced trader trying to find the very best roi, this guide breaks down whatever you need to know-- provided in tables, lists, and an informative, third-person tone.

1. What Are CS: GO Cases?

CS: GO cases are locked containers that can be opened with a Key (a purchasable in-game product). Each case includes a random skin, and the rarity of the skin is determined by a possibility table that Valve releases. The case-opening mechanic is a type of loot box gambling, and players must be conscious of the monetary danger involved.

How the Opening Process Works

1. Get a Case-- Cases drop naturally after finishing a match, or they can be bought from the Steam Community Market (SCM).
2. Purchase a Key-- Keys are purchased from Valve's in-game shop or the SCM.
3. Open the Case-- Using the "Open Case" UI, the gamer gets a random skin. The outcome is chosen server-side, guaranteeing fairness.

2. Rarity Odds and Drop Rates

Each case follows a set likelihood distribution for skin rarities. Below is a simplified table for a common weapon case (e.g., the Clutch Case).

Rarity	Tier	Color (In-Game)	Approx. Drop Chance
Customer	Grey	79.9%
Industrial	Blue	15.9%
Mil-Spec	Purple	3.9%
Restricted	Pink	0.64%
Classified	Red	0.26%
Covert	Red	0.06%
Rare Special Item (Knife/Gloves)	Gold	0.015%

Note: Exact portions can differ a little in between cases. Valve updates chances from time to time, so constantly check the official CS: GO blog site for the current information.
