Brigstock, Geddington and Oundle each have their own character, but they share one thing, which is that a decent phone repair specialist is not always on the doorstep. When a handset fails, people from these places often look towards Corby, where Free Fusion has been fixing phones, tablets and laptops for more than a decade. Here is what a visit involves and why it tends to work well for people travelling in.

The shop sits at 62a High St in Corby, in the Old Village area, and it takes walk-in customers on weekdays and Saturdays. There is no need to book, so you can set off when it suits you. Once you arrive, we check the phone while you wait, and local customers get a free diagnosis. That first conversation tells you what is broken, what can be saved and what it is likely to cost, with no pressure. If the answer is that the phone is beyond sensible repair, we will say so, and if it is a simple fix we will usually be able to start straight away. Taking the phone in person also means you can explain exactly how the fault started, which helps us find the cause faster.

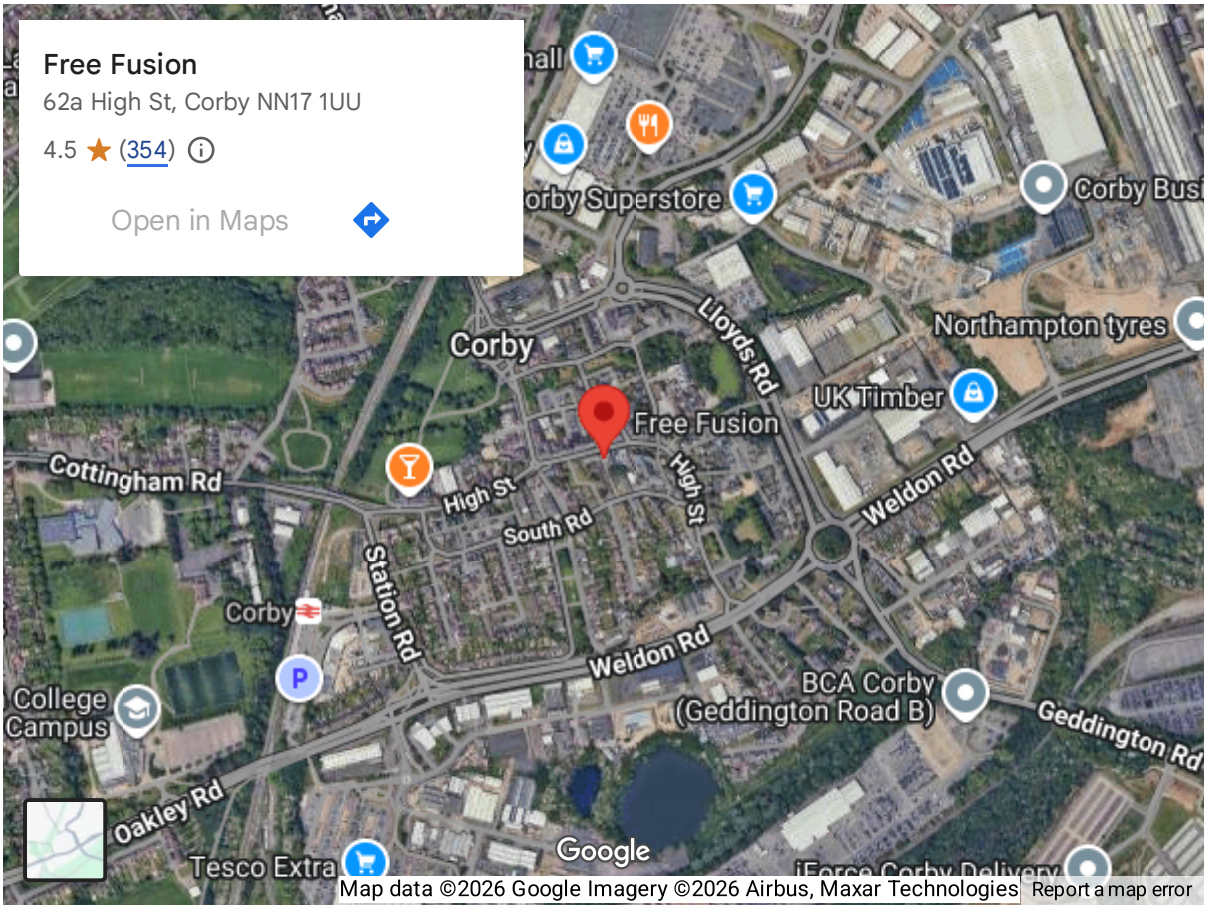

Because you may have driven some distance, turnaround matters. Most repairs are completed the same day, and smartphone screen and battery replacements are typically done within about an hour at the Corby centre. Prices start from £24.99 for an iPhone screen, from £19.99 for an iPhone battery and from £19.99 for an iPhone charging port. Every repair is backed by a warranty, which we are happy to explain in person.

It is worth ringing ahead if your phone is an unusual model or you need a particular repair. We cover iPhones from the iPhone 5 through to the 17 series, plus iPads, Apple Watch, MacBook and Windows laptops, and brands including Samsung Galaxy, Google Pixel, Huawei, OPPO, OnePlus, Sony, Nokia, HTC and Honor. A quick call saves a wasted journey and lets us tell you what to bring. If you can, charge the phone a little beforehand, know your passcode and bring any accessories that go with it, such as the charging cable you normally use. Those small details make the diagnosis quicker and more accurate.

When you search for mobile phone repair near me from a village, the best result is not always the closest dot on a map. If a trip is awkward, our postal service handles devices from across the UK via Royal Mail and DPD, and mailed devices are typically tested and dispatched the same day they arrive. To arrange a repair, call 01536 Free Fusion Mobile Phone Repair Near Me 260 558 or walk in to 62a High St, Corby.

FAQ About

Mobile Phone Repair Near Me How much does it cost to fix a broken phone? The cost depends on the device and the fault. At Free Fusion in Corby, iPhone screens start from £24.99, batteries from £19.99, charging ports from £19.99 and back glass from £50. Local customers also get a free diagnosis, so you know exactly what is wrong before you commit to a repair. How can I trust a phone repair shop? Look for a shop with a visible track record, a real address you can walk into and repairs that come with a warranty. Free Fusion has more than a decade of repair experience, a shop at 62a High St in Corby and a 4.7 out of 5 rating on Trustpilot from almost 500 reviews. Ask any shop to explain the fault in plain English before they start, and call us on 01536 260 558 if you want to check anything first. Where is the best place to get an iPhone repaired? The best place is a specialist that does the job properly, quickly and at a fair price. Free Fusion is an independent repair centre on the High Street in Corby, and most iPhone screen and battery replacements are done within about an hour while you wait. We are an independent repair specialist, not an Apple Store, and common repairs such as batteries and charging ports start from just £19.99. Can a water damaged phone be fixed? Often it can, but speed matters. Switch the phone off, do not charge it and bring it to a repair centre as soon as you can. Free Fusion offers water damage diagnosis and liquid recovery from £9.99, and local customers in Corby get a free diagnosis so you know where things stand. Do you offer same day mobile phone repair in Corby? Yes, most repairs at Free Fusion are completed the same day. Common jobs such as screen and battery replacements usually take about an hour, so you can often walk in, wait and leave with a working phone. Call 01536 260 558 to check availability for your model.
