Janitorial work is not glamorous, but every building in Roanoke depends on it. When trash goes out on time, floors stay clear of grit and restrooms are sanitized properly, nobody thinks about it. When it slips, everyone does. The Happy Housekeepers created Corporate Clean in 1986 specifically to give local businesses a janitorial cleaning service they could stop worrying about.

The division grew out of a company that had already spent seven years cleaning homes across the Roanoke Valley. Founder Mary Jane Wszolek saw that the same attention to detail customers loved at home was missing in many offices, so she expanded. Today Corporate Clean services executive offices, general offices and medical facilities, and it brings experience that includes handling biohazard materials, which is something many smaller operators are not equipped to do.

A typical janitorial visit covers the essentials that keep a building healthy and presentable: dusting furniture and horizontal surfaces, vacuuming carpets, vacuuming and mopping hard floors, emptying and removing trash, sanitizing bathrooms and phones, and dusting window coverings. Phones in particular are easy to overlook, yet they are among the most handled objects in any office. Each contract is tailored, and service is available daily, weekly, bi-monthly or monthly.
